

Magsaysay Elected Philippine President By Landslide Vote

MANILA (AP)—Tired, ailing President Elpidio Quirino today conceded victory in the Philippines presidential election to youthful, vigorous Ramon Magsaysay, who won in a landslide.

The 46-year-old winner, a staunch friend of the United States, becomes the third President of this 7-year-old republic. He is to take office Jan. 1 for a four-year term. Quirino steps out after six years in office.

Unofficial nationwide returns gave Magsaysay 2,269,131 votes to 1,002,566 for Quirino.

The concession statement by the 62-year-old Quirino, still recovering from two major stomach operations in the United States, was read to newsmen by his press secretary. It said:

"The people's verdict should be accepted for the sake of national unity. I have nothing but good wishes for the country and my successor."

Magsaysay bolted President Quirino's Liberal party and resigned as defense secretary eight months ago after disputing with the Chief Executive over the conduct of the government's campaign against the Communist Huk guerrillas.

Magsaysay demanded firmer action against the rebels.

Guided Missiles May Be Used To Stop Tornadoes

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A guided missile may someday be fired into the roaring heart of a tornado and save a city like Waco, Tex., from such damage and death left there last spring.

Two scientists believe it completely practical and possible of achievement in the near future.

Dr. Fritz O. Rossman, a German physicist and meteorologist brought to this country by the Air Force six months ago, has propounded a new theory about tornado behavior.

Prevention Not Possible

Col. Rollins H. Mayer, electronic scientist at the Air Force missile test center, Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., where Rossman is working, says the theory makes possible a national tornado-damage prevention net.

Rossman and Mayer were here to present papers and propose the net at the 125th annual meeting of the American Meteorological Society.

Rossman claims there is a terrifically powerful downdraft in the funnel of a tornado—not an updraft as has long been believed.

His plan is to pinch off this funnel from the cloud that is feeding it its destructive, whirling, downdraft power. He thinks a guided missile exploded into the air mass overhanging the funnel will do the job.

More Research Needed

The old impression of an updraft in a tornado's funnel is created, he told The Associated Press, by the downdraft jet striking the ground or water then bouncing back upward outside the funnel.

Mayer predicted tornado destruction might be achieved in 5 to 10 years if sufficient support can be mustered for necessary study and research.

The kind of net he proposes would consist of mobile antitornado stations, assembled at airports near large cities where tornadoes might be expected.

Poll By Magazine Reveals Farmers Approve Of Benson

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"A heavy majority of farmers" approve of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, Farm Journal magazine said today, "despite the cattleman's caravan and other spectacular maneuvers of the opposition."

The article will appear in the magazine's December issue out Monday. Farm Journal said it based its findings on three sources:

"Opinion just gathered from 450 typical, good farmers scattered throughout the country, raising a variety of crops, and of various political affiliations."

"Poll of 21 state livestock associations, representing many thousands of cattlemen."

"Reports from the magazine's 8 field directors."

Farm Journal said five things the farmers liked best about Benson were his reorganization of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, requesting the farmers' opinion on the next farm program, his emergency aid to drought areas, his purchase of a half-million lower-grade beef animals, and his unwillingness to be stampeded by politicians and pressure groups.

Auto Rolls Into Lake And Catches Drake

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The duck must have been the Houdini of the fowl world.

Jack P. Deavours parked his car Wednesday on a slope above Oakland's Lake Merritt, locked it, rolled up the windows and walked to his job.

The car rolled into the lake. A dredging crew pulled it out.

Inside, swimming around in water that had seeped in, was a mallard drake.

Reds May Give Up POW Wooing

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Indian command today worked on detailed plans for screening Chinese and Korean war prisoners if the Communists abandon efforts to woo them home.

Red interviews with prisoners refusing repatriation were canceled for the eighth straight day when the Communists repeated their demand to see 356 POWs who were skipped by stalling persuaders last Thursday.

Official quarters said the Red move appeared to be merely a maneuver while the Communist high command decides whether to go along with new rules for running the interviews.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, has told the Reds to interview entire compounds of 500 men each in a day or skip those not interviewed.

Diplomatic staff advisers held their fifth secret session in an effort to draw up an agenda for talks to arrange a Korean peace conference. Another session was set for Friday.

Big Four Arms Talks Proposed

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States, Britain and France have proposed direct four-power talks with Russia in an attempt to break the logjam on disarmament and atomic weapon control measures.

The suggestion was made in a resolution submitted Wednesday to the U. N.'s 60-nation Political Committee. There was no immediate Soviet reaction but Kremlin representatives here have supported similar proposals in the past.

The commission has been deadlocked for months in attempts to work out disarmament and atomic control programs because of opposing Western and Russian views on how they should be handled.

Editor Goes After New Time Record For Circling Globe

CHICAGO (AP)—Aubrey O. Cookman Jr., a magazine editor, plans to leave on a flight around the world Friday and hopes to set a new record of about 90 hours for the flight in commercial planes.

Cookman will use commercial airline facilities all the way on his estimated 21,452-mile trip. The regular fare, including tax and meals, will total $1,769.35.

Flying eastward, he hopes to return to Chicago early next Tuesday morning with a record bettering the 99-hour mark set by Horace C. Boren of Dallas, Tex., last June. Cookman is assistant editor in charge of aviation for Popular Mechanics magazine.

Finns Hunt Spies

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—Finnish authorities continued a probe into alleged spy activities today after announcing the arrest of five men, including an officer and an Air Force sergeant, on charges of spying for an unidentified foreign power. They were arrested Oct. 27 at Jyväskylä, in central Finland, near a Finnish air base.

Agriculture Chief Outlines Aims For Sound Farm Policy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson, target of some farm leaders and congressmen because of his farm policies, declared today he is not interested in "personal popularity."

The GOP farm chief said he is striking ahead in an effort to develop a sound agricultural program that would serve "all of agriculture" and "all the people."

In a speech prepared for a meeting of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities, Benson said it would have been "comparatively easy" for him to "yield to the demands . . . to go off on a round of patchwork programming."

No Magic Formula
"There is no easy panacea for agriculture," he declared. "There is no magic formula that will set everything right. Patchwork remedies—quick remedies—patent medicine remedies—are a dime a dozen, and that's all some of them are worth."

Benson has been highly critical of rigid high-level price support features of existing farm law. He has contended they price crops out of markets, create surpluses and bring on unwanted production controls.

Some farm leaders and lawmakers who favor the present program have demanded that Benson resign. President Eisenhower has said he is standing back of his Cabinet official.

Let Foreigners See H-Bomb Blast Terror, Official Suggests

WASHINGTON (AP)—An atomic energy commissioner suggests that foreigners, presumably including Russians, should see a U. S. hydrogen bomb exploded as a sample of the destructive alternate to world peace.

The idea, expressed by Thomas E. Murray last night, came as America was readying another and probably more fierce hydrogen test blast.

He said first-hand observation of an H-bomb's thunder "is an essential qualification for future negotiators of the great survival issues in the years ahead." Such an American showing, he added, might persuade the Russians to match it with a demonstration of their own.

Foreign observers were last admitted to a major atomic test at Bikini Atoll in the Pacific in 1946. The AEC has announced, without detail, that Bikini will be used in further atomic tests, supplying the facilities of Eniwetok Atoll, used since 1948. There have been reports that the hydrogen test at Eniwetok last year disintegrated an island.

Vice In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—A Foreign Office spokesman said today there has been some success in stamping out what AFL Representative Richard L. G. Deverall called "shocking sex, narcotic and alcoholic conditions" in Japan.

Deverall, former chief of labor education in the Far East under Gen. Douglas MacArthur, said in Chicago Wednesday that drinking and misconduct is rampant among U. S. troops in Japan.

Senate Inquiry On White To Be Open To Public

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Truman today rejected a subpoena from the House Un-American Activities Committee, and any move to try to force him to testify in the Harry Dexter White case appeared remote.

In a letter to Chairman Velde (R-Ill.), the ex-president took a stand that the Constitution's division of powers of government stood as a barrier to his complying with the subpoena "in spite of a personal willingness to cooperate with your committee."

Issue Washed Out
As the developments came here, Velde first announced that he was postponing indefinitely Friday's committee session to which he had summoned Truman—an action which pretty well washed out the subpoena issue, at least for the immediate future.

Calling off the hearing meant, too, that there was no reason for Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark to have any concern about the subpoena issued for him to testify tomorrow.

Charles P. Murphy, Truman's counsel, personally delivered Truman's letter to Velde shortly after the committee chairman called off the session. Velde made it public.

Separate Quiz Started
Even as this matter was put aside, Senate investigators began exploratory hearings on the roaring controversy touched off by Atty. Gen. Brownell's charges that Truman promoted White, a Treasury official, in 1946 in the face of FBI reports that White was a Russian spy.

T. Lamar Caudle, onetime assistant attorney general, was the initial witness before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee behind closed doors.

Emerging, after about an hour, Caudle told reporters he "became alarmed" in 1946 about an FBI report on White but there was no proof of statements linking White to Soviet Espionage.

Caudle also suggested that

Ex-President Jostled On His Morning Walk; Stalls Off Newsmen

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said today a statement was being prepared on his attitude about a congressional committee subpoena "and when it is ready, you will all have it."

"Today?" he was asked.

"No," he answered.

The remark was made while the former President was taking his usual pre-breakfast stroll accompanied by 80 newsmen eager to learn whether he would testify in Washington Friday before the House Un-American Activities Committee about the Harry Dexter White case.

Bumped And Pushed
Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., charged last Friday in a speech at Chicago that Truman appointed White, a Treasury aide now dead, as American director of the International Monetary Fund despite an FBI report describing him as a Soviet spy.

Truman was subpoenaed Tuesday. Wednesday during his usual walk he indicated he might have a statement today.

Peninsula Resort Business Doubles

MARQUETTE (AP)—The resort business in Michigan's Upper Peninsula has more than doubled in the past 10 years, the area's development bureau reported today.

It predicted a new peak in 1954. The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau estimated the tourist trade brings in $60 million dollars annually in its area.

Business in 1953 was estimated to be 12 per cent above 1952, which in turn was 15 per cent above 1951.

The bureau warned peninsula business men that today's vacationist has become a shopper for bargains at home and continues that practice on his vacation. Businesses must keep abreast of market conditions if they are to draw patronage and new business, the organization said.

Navy Bachelor And His Korean Orphan Finally Reach U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A rugged 35-year-old Navy bachelor and the chubby little Korean waif he took off the streets of Inchon more than a year ago have finally made it to the United States.

After weeks of battling red tape, the pair—both of them smiling shyly—arrived Wednesday aboard a big Mars flying boat from Honolulu.

Four-year-old Lee Kyung Soo was wearing a uniform just like that of Chief Boatswain's Mate Vincent T. Paladino of New Rochelle, N. Y., a veteran of 13 years in the Navy.

Paladino, who hopes to adopt the orphan, said the first time he saw Lee "I decided to take him out of the cold and clean him up."

"Lee feared me. It was two months before he would believe I was a friend and another month before he smiled."

Firemen Flag Down Burning Junk Load

LANSING (AP)—Firemen at Lansing's No. 8 station thought for a while Wednesday they'd have to get out their rig and chase the fire.

They reported that an unidentified junk dealer discovered his load of trash was blazing furiously as he drove toward the city dump. He headed for the fire station but became confused.

He circled the block twice, each time passing directly in front of the station, until passers-by reported:

"There's a fire going around the block."

Firemen hooked a hose to a corner hydrant, flagged the bewildered driver down as he started his third trip around and put out the blaze.

"I knew there was a fire station here some place," the driver said.

Eisenhower Puts On Brakes To Spare Truman

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans started after former President Truman in high gear. Then President Eisenhower threw on the brakes.

Given a sharp nudge by Eisenhower, Atty. Gen. Brownell—who has far more experience in politics than the President—came up with a statement saying what he had left unsaid:

That he didn't mean to suggest Truman was disloyal when he said the ex-President promoted Harry Dexter White after the FBI sent the White House notice that White was a spy for Russia.

Senators In Competition

Eisenhower pulled the brakes on Rep. Harold Velde (R-Ill.), chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, who had piled up headlines with his subpoena of Truman, Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark and South Carolina Gov. James F. Byrnes.

Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he would not have tried to subpoena Truman. Eisenhower said it was inconceivable to him that Truman could be disloyal to America. A few hours later, Brownell issued the statement saying he didn't mean to question Truman's loyalty.

Velde and Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.), chairman of the Senate subcommittee on internal security, have been in apparent competition over who would investigate Brownell's charges for Congress.

Democrats Angered

Jenner announced days ago he would question Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan today. Right behind him came Velde with the news he'd call Vaughan—Truman's military aide to whom Brownell said the FBI reports were delivered.

Jenner said he would not consider issuing a subpoena for Truman, whereupon Velde announced a subpoena had been issued for Truman, Clark and Byrnes.

Democrats on the committee, giving signs of blazing anger, complained that they had not been consulted by Velde about the subpoenas. At least one Republican on the committee, also not consulted, expressed dislike of Velde's procedure.

When Eisenhower did, too, it appeared unlikely Truman would have to appear soon, if ever.

Willow Run Move Is Travel Problem For GM Employees

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers Union is expected to press for free transportation or a compensating wage adjustment for General Motors employees traveling to the corporation's newly-acquired Willow Run plant.

Kaiser Motors said the plant factory to GM Tuesday for $28,000,000.

Bus Fare $1.67

UAW Vice President John W. Livingston, who heads the union's GB division, called the purchase of the 62-acre plant "a severe blow to the pocketbooks of hundreds of workers who are faced with heavy mortgages on homes they bought near the Livonia plant."

A GM spokesman had said that "at no time" had the giant auto manufacturing firm declared it would rebuild Livonia plant destroyed by fire Aug. 12.

Livingston said round trip bus fare from Detroit to Willow Run is $1.67. He suggested that the company either make a wage adjustment to compensate for the extra cost in transportation or make transportation available.

Priority For 11,000

About 7,000 GM workers are now employed at the plant, as well as some 3,000 Kaiser workers. However, the Kaiser jobs will be terminated by the end of the year at which time Kaiser will have moved its operations to Toledo.

Union officials hope that the Kaiser employees will eventually be put on GM payrolls. Many of them have their homes near the plant or in nearby Ypsilanti.

However, 11,000 employees were on GM payrolls at Livonia, the burned out transmission plant. It is expected that these will get first priority on Willow Run jobs.

UAW spokesmen said top union officials will discuss the Willow Run situation in Cleveland where they are meeting in advance of the Monday opening of the CIO convention there.

Recount Sought In Detroit Vote

DETROIT (AP)—State Sen. Charles S. Diggs, Jr., today demanded a recount of Detroit's non-partisan City Council election Nov. 3.

Diggs, a Democrat in partisan politics, placed tenth in the race for the nine-man council. He was nosed out by Mrs. Blanche Parent Wise, housewife, auto salesman and former school teacher. Mrs. Wise had an unofficial margin of 4,948 votes.

Diggs said he was prepared to put up the $3,630 required for a recount. The bulk of this was contributed by the Friendship Baptist Church congregation, he said.

State Men Check Delta Valuation

A spot check of assessed property valuations in Delta County has been started by the field staff of the Michigan State Tax Commission, and the work is now under way in the city of Escanaba.

Louis M. Nims, State Tax Commission chairman, in a letter to assessing officers of the county, said the spot check is to obtain information "for use of this Commission in state equalization, to furnish county boards factual data for county equalization, and to render all assistance possible to supervisors and assessors in establishing uniform assessments."

The work is being conducted here by Thomas H. Polkingborne, Iron Mountain, field supervisor, and Leonard S. Carlson, Bessemer, property appraiser, for the State Tax Commission.

When the spot check is completed in Escanaba they will go to Gladstone and then return to Escanaba, where they will locate in the Court House in working through the townships.

The last spot check of valuations in Delta County was made in 1946.

The spot check does not affect the assessed values placed upon individual properties by local assessors, for the field men of the State Tax Commission are not assessing officers. Several weeks will be required to complete the work in Delta County.

County Chest Total Reaches $6,000, Or 30 Per Cent Of Goal

"All donors are again reminded that the Delta County Community Chest campaign is a six-in-one drive and that each donation must serve six agencies."

This statement was emphasized jointly yesterday by William E. Anderson and James A. Kennedy, county and Escanaba city chairmen, respectively.

With contributions from nine businesses or industries being received, the county total reached more than $6,000 this morning, it was reported at the Chest office, 1111 Ludington St. Envelopes were received yesterday from Escanaba Paper Company, Delta Hardware, G. Reiss Coal Company, Northwest Fruit, National Biscuit, U. P. Power and Light, Coca Cola Bottling, Diamond Pole and Piling and the Independent Roofing and Siding companies.

"Each person making a donation must ask himself what he would give to a campaign for any one of the six agencies," Chairman Anderson said. "Then, he should multiply that by six to determine the contribution he should make toward the Community Chest. Remember, it serves the Children's Aid, Cod Liver Oil Fund, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls."

All wage earners in Delta county certainly should contribute generously for this worthy cause, the Chest Council emphasized.

Kennedy, city chairman, and Robert Thyberg, Briton J. Hall and P. D. Stack, Ludington Street co-chairmen, particularly urged all block captains on Ludington to complete their work before Saturday.

Block captains who have not yet completed their work are John Riley, 200-300 blocks; John Hebert, 400; Bill Harvey, 500; Ed McCarthy and Bob Brackett, 600; Lowell Farrell, 700; Dean Konell and Warren Morrison, 800; Don Devlin and Ken Vohs, 900; Bill Bisbee and Paul Snyder, 1000; Bill Baum and Bill Heninger, 1100; Jack Manning and Don Scott, 1200; Jack Beck, 1300 south; Percy Rosemurgy, 1400, and J. Lee Hendricks, 1800-2300.

Chairmen of other committees in the city, Schools, Unions, Men's Clubs and others, are requested to complete their solicitations by Saturday.

A report of returns by committees in Escanaba will be published Saturday.

Program By Lay Health Committee At Soo Hill PTA

SOO HILL — At the regular meeting of the Soo Hill PTA last night, members of the Lay Health Committee of Escanaba and Wells Township presented a program explaining the services of the committee and the Delta-Menominee Health Department.

Mrs. Christian Riegel, president of the Lay Health Committee, commented on the fact that the organization began 16 years ago. The advances made since its inception are noteworthy. Epidemics were not uncommon before that time, but through the Immunization Clinic of the Health Department such diseases as small pox have been wiped out.

Other services of the Health Department include food inspection, water inspection, sanitation and school health inspection. Miss Phoebe Anderson R.N., is the supervisor of the nurses who bring the services of the Department into the home. Miss Anita Kotila is the nurse for this area.

The Lay Health Committee is made up of volunteer non-professional women who assist in the orthopedic and immunization clinics. They also furnish the cod liver oil which is distributed free to the children of the county. They provide gifts at Christmas time for the county's patients at the Pinecrest Sanatorium. At the present time members are investigating a study of flouridation of Escanaba's water supply.

Norbert Couillard Is Again Placed On Probation

Norbert Couillard, 20, of 574 N. 9th St., Gladstone, in Circuit Court this morning on a charge of violation of probation, was again put on probation by Judge Edward Fenlon of Potoskey, who told the youth he had faith in his ability to live up to his probation promises.

A new condition was added to Couillard's probation terms: that he appear at the next term of Circuit Court and talk privately with the judge.

Couillard had been on probation from a charge earlier this year in Circuit Court of larceny of a tire and wheel. He was picked up Nov. 9 because he allegedly violated a probation condition that he should not drive, own or operate a motor vehicle for his four-year probation period.

Judge Fenlon Is Dinner Speaker

A Michigan circuit judge has a great weight on his conscience when he sentences young men to prison, Judge Edward Fenlon of Petoskey told 128 Legionnaires, Auxiliary members, veterans and guests who attended a Cleveland Post 82 Armistice Day dinner Wednesday, night in the Legion clubrooms.

Judge Fenlon has presided in Delta County Circuit Court this term, filling in for Judge Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone, who is ill.

Every man sentenced to prison in the U. P. goes to Marquette, every man sentenced in the Lower Peninsula to Jackson, remarked Judge Fenlon, whose regular circuit includes one Upper Peninsula county, Mackinac, and two Lower Peninsula counties, Cheboygan and Emmet.

Marquette and Jackson are not reform schools, the judge commented. He told the audience that seven out of every 10 men sent to the two prisons are repeaters—commit other crimes serious enough to get them sent back to jail.

So, Judge Fenlon said, a circuit judge's task is a grave one. Dinner guests of Cleveland Post 82 were two Delta County residents who became U. S. citizens Oct. 29 at naturalization proceedings in Judge Fenlon's court. They were Mrs. Regina Anderson of 622 N. 19th St., and William Krieger of Gladstone Rte. 1.

The turkey dinner was served by girls from the Escanaba Senior High School home economics class.

William E. Butler, post commander, was toastmaster.

South Shore Railway Wants To Cut Off Passenger Trains

MARQUETTE — An official notice of the public hearing to be conducted here next month by the Michigan Public Service Commission on the petition by the South Shore Railroad to discontinue passenger runs has been received by the city commission.

The public hearing will be conducted beginning at 9:30 Tuesday morning, Dec. 15, in the Board of Supervisors' room of the Court House. It is expected that the hearing will continue through Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 16 and 17.

All interested parties have been requested to attend the session, and to present such evidence as "may be deemed necessary in said matter," the Public Service Commission states in its notice to the Marquette City Commission.

The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railroad is asking the MPSC for authority to discontinue the operation of Trains Nos. 1 and 2, between St. Ignace and Marquette; and Trains Nos. 7 and 8, between Marquette and the Michigan - Wisconsin state line at the Montreal River.

Employees On Strike At Escanaba Motors

The Escanaba Motor Company, 115 S. Seventh St., is being picketed following a walkout of mechanics, shop employees and parts men early Wednesday afternoon.

The employees, members of the Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Warehousemen Union, Local 328 AFL, are seeking to negotiate a new contract with Jay Niver, proprietor of the garage. Niver declined to comment.

Ten men are involved in the walkout.

Fishermen, Mink Ranchers Unable To Agree On Price As Herring Harvest Nears

The little herring is causing a big turmoil because the fishermen who catch them and the mink ranchers who buy most of them cannot agree on the price.

About 3,000,000 pounds of herring is expected to be taken by Delta County fishermen within the next few weeks. The herring run, a little late this year, is expected to be fully under way within another week.

Mink ranchers buy approximately 90 per cent of the herring harvest a speed for their mink, but whether they will buy some or none this year depends on the price.

Fishermen are mutually agreed they will have to get 4 cents per pound for herring at the dock or 4½ cents delivered to the mink ranchers; the mink men contend they should not have to pay more than 3 cents at the dock and 3½ cents delivered.

"Strike" Is Threatened

Spokesmen for the commercial fishermen and the mink ranchers privately agree that a compromise on price would be the best solution to the herring price impasse, but publicly they are a full one cent apart—which appears as far apart as the poles.

The mink ranchers are holding firm and contend they will not pay the price asked by the fishermen, and the men with the nets and the boats say that rather than produce herring at 4 cents a pound they will keep the nets in the sheds and the boats at the docks.

At Escanaba about 10,000 pounds of herring were brought in the other day, but at Fayette and Fairport the boats are tied up. Fishermen say they will not set their nets unless they can get 4 cents for herring.

Economic Factors

Both the fishermen and the mink ranchers can and do make a good case for their side in the herring price controversy.

Fishermen point out that labor costs are high and nylon nets are expensive. They received 4 cents a pound last year, they say, and their costs have gone up in the past year, so they can't do business with the mink ranchers for less than that price.

Mink ranchers, equally concerned about rising costs, say they are in a highly competitive business and have to cut corners to stay in business. Mink food is a major cost item—and they say they can get ocean whiting, already frozen, delivered for 4½ cents.

Herring is preferred to whiting, however, but cost corners have to be cut and the local herring run comes during the pelting season, when the ranchers are busy with their own interest.

Compromise Solution?

Commercial fishermen say the supply of salt herring is large, having been held over from last year's bumper crop. This accounts for the 3 cent price at the dock established by Lake Superior herring fishermen.

Besides the Green Bay area, the largest herring producing fisheries are located at Houghton and Chassel and Superior on Lake Superior. Lake Erie also produces quantities of herring.

Mink ranchers also buy millions of pounds of smelt each spring. Herring is still preferred, however.

Sportsmen's Club Plans Venison Feed

Howard Eldred will head a committee in charge of a venison feed planned for the December meeting of the Delta County Sportsmen's club. Plans for the feed were discussed at the "Red Shirt Night" meeting of the club at Carpenters' Hall last night.

The sportsmen voted a $10.00 contribution to the Community Chest.

A decision on a green and white shoulder patch emblem was reached after the club members examined a number of sketches and samples. The new emblem will replace a small printed felt badge in use for the past year.

Committee reports were heard from a committee seeking a means of eliminating danger to bird dogs from coyote traps during the month of October and from the membership committee. The membership campaign for 1954 opened at last night's meeting.

Truman Owes An Explanation Of Actions In Nomination Of White

FORMER President Truman cannot justifiably discard the furore over the Harry Dexter White case as a Republican political maneuver.

It is that, of course, but it also is much more than that. The record indicates that President Truman promoted White to the important position of U. S. director of the International Monetary Fund at a time when White was playing footsy with the Red spy ring in this country. The record further indicates that while Mr. Truman may have or may not have known of White's Communist inclinations at the time he nominated him for promotion, he was advised of the FBI report on White shortly after but declined to do anything about it.

These are the facts as reported by James E. Byrnes, now governor of South Carolina, but who was at that time the secretary of state in President Truman's administration. Byrnes contends that he called to the attention of President Truman the adverse FBI report on White and urged the President to dismiss White.

President Truman did nothing about it, apparently in the belief that to make a public issue of it at that time would have been harmful to the Democratic administration. The position of White in high government office, of course, was much more harmful to the United States.

The FBI report on White was made months before he was promoted to the position of U. S. director of the International Monetary Fund. It is still uncertain whether the report actually got to the President at that time although there is little doubt that it was submitted to the White House. Apparently the report was given to Harry Vaughan, the military aide of President Truman. Vaughan may not have passed it on to the President although it is apparent that such failure, if it occurred, was a gross dereliction of duty.

There is less room for doubt, however, that the second report on White to President Truman did not reach the President. Secretary Byrnes verifies that it did.

It is, of course, unfortunate that these facts were not brought out in public focus much earlier. Attorney General Brownell apparently has had this information for some time, undoubtedly taken from the files of the Justice Department. The delay in disclosing the information gives substance to the Democratic charge that it is a political maneuver but it does not lessen the gravity of the facts in the case.

As this is written, it is uncertain whether President Truman will respond to the subpoena served upon him by the House Un-American Activities Committee. He may not like the political atmosphere but he owes it to the American people to explain his actions in this case, if there is any sound and logical explanation. Failure to explain can leave the public only with the belief that there is no sound and logical explanation possible.

Society Responsible For Moral Discipline

SUPREME Court Justice Jackson spoke out the other day against the force and the lawlessness that seem to loom so large in this present age.

He finds this phenomenon present both in the international and the domestic spheres of life. And what alarms him most is the prospect that:

"Our people, appalled by the magnitude and stubbornness of the manifestations of lawlessness, tend to sink into a suicidal fatalism that accepts violence, crime, injustice and misgovernment as part of the natural and changeless order of things."

Justice Jackson is not exaggerating this unhappy condition. The crime files of the FBI and every police department in America support him. The headlines blare the story.

Jackson believes that a great responsibility rests upon the legal profession to improve the administration and enforcement of the criminal and civil law. There can be no question of this.

But, fundamentally, the responsibility falls upon all the agencies of our society if we are to re-establish sound moral and social disciplines. And neither they nor the lawyers can do the job until they understand the many complex factors of modern living which account for the present breakdown.

BELOW THE PYRENEES

(New York Times)

The Pyrenees, verdant and alive on the French side, are rugged, dull and brown on the Spanish side. The change is typical of the massive Iberian peninsula, which often reminds travelers less of Europe than of Africa, from which it is cut off by the shallow trench at Gibraltar. Geography, which has taken precedence over politics in the Spanish-American defense arrangement, has marked out the peculiar role of Spain in world affairs.

In spite of its being surrounded on three and a half sides by the Atlantic and Mediterranean it never qualified as a great maritime power. Its harbors are cut off from inland markets by its mountains. Its mastery of the New World was a tour de force not destined to endure or to bring lasting benefits. Yet the return of an American fleet to keep watch over the harbor from which Columbus sailed on his voyage of discovery is an event to awaken great memories.

Police, says a judge, shouldn't be too hasty about arresting a man for vagrancy. He may be shopping with his wife.

Nowadays the bright and shining currency of Carroll's coinages is often debased by the mechanical blendings of the gossip columnists. Such words as "swelegant," "hemoting" (for a male actor's "emoting") and "musicalulu" (for a toponch musical play) are to be found in the daily output of a dozen or more of these writers. That they occasionally serve a useful function by giving an added element of surprise to otherwise trite and trifling jottings is not to be denied. But the device has long since lost the dewy freshness and wit, we still, praise be, can recapture between the covers of ALICE IN WONDERLAND. Or could I be—just possibly—still under the spell of my own 6-year-old enchantress?

The Doctor Says . . . Diabetes Is Deadly If Not Found and Treated Properly

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

It is most disturbing to receive a letter such as that recently sent me by Mrs. W. She says she is seventy-one-years old and has had diabetes for over four years. Many years ago she was hospitalized and given a diet and has not had to take insulin. She adds, however, that she has not been under the care of a physician for a number of years, and wants to know if it would be safe for her to add rice to her diet.

This point of view is alarming, first because it is not safe for a victim of diabetes to go for any length of time without medical supervision, and second because the writer implies that she would be perfectly willing to add rice to her diet if someone who had never seen her advised it.

The latter would be an extremely dangerous thing to do since everyone with diabetes, or any other serious disease for that matter, needs individual and not mail-order treatment.

Untreated diabetes can lead to serious complications. Persons with diabetes are more liable than others to hardening of the arteries and, in the feet and legs, infection and sometimes death of tissue or gangrene. People with diabetes are more susceptible to coronary thrombosis or angina pectoris, both involving the heart. Serious eye complications are also not uncommon. Neglect of this disease can lead to progressive loss of weight and eventually even to death.

TOO MANY ARE CARELESS
Even today there are far too many people who are careless about their diets or insulin and develop serious complications which cause death far too soon.

Diabetes must be diagnosed as early as possible and exact treatment with diet, and if necessary, insulin, must be set up. Those afflicted with this disease cannot be careless about following instructions if they wish to avoid painful or serious complications and possibly even an early death.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Worried State Department officials admit privately that the fuse is burning shorter on the Trieste powder keg.

The Army is pressing to declare martial law in order to prevent additional bloodshed. However, the State Department fears this move would only heighten the tension. What has the State Department really worried, however, is that our Trieste policy has driven Yugoslavia back to the strict neutrality it followed immediately after Marshal Tito's break with Russia.

This will mean that Yugoslavia's rugged Army cannot be tied into Western defense plans. Up to now, Gen. Al Gruenther, the supreme commander in Europe, has counted Tito's forces as part of the 80 divisions he has reported can be mustered to meet a Russian attack.

Meanwhile, British-American Intelligence has uncovered 20 Soviet agents working inside the rioting student groups. On the other side, Moscow agents have also been discovered on the Trieste police force. Their orders from the Kremlin have been to use brutality against the students in order to keep the trouble boiling.

JAPAN DOESN'T WANT ARMS

Backstage conversations regarding the new Japanese Army and Navy make it quite clear that the Japanese government is not nearly as anxious to build up a defense force as the United States is to have it built. In private conferences held in Japan, the Japanese government indicated it would like a Navy of 300,000 tons, all small coastal craft; an Army of 250,000 troops; and an Air Force of four wings, three to be F-34 fighter bombers and one to be F-86 jet interceptors.

The Pentagon agreed on the 300,000 Naval tonnage, recommended a 300,000-man Army and approved four air wings, except they should all be interceptors and no fighter bombers. Specifically, the Air Force recommended 1,000 combat planes and 500 supporting planes, mostly trainers, for Japan.

However, Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's special negotiator, Hayato Ikeda, threw a bombshell into the talks by asking for only 200,000 Naval tonnage and no Air Force at all. Instead he advocated a long-range goal of 300,000 to 400,000 troops.

The final decision will probably depend on what policy the Eisenhower administration adopts toward Red China.

REDUCED AIR FORCE

It's not that Eisenhower, an old Army man, doesn't like the Air Force. He's just determined to balance the budget. At any rate it was he personally, and no one else, who blocked the Air Force from going to the 137 wings.

The joint chiefs of staff had set 127 wings as the Air Force goal by July 1, 1956, but agreed to let Gen. Nat Twining, Air Force chief of staff, go one step further and appeal to the White House for 137 wings. Ike vetoed the plea immediately. It would take money out of next year's budget, he said.

Note—Sen. Burnet Maybank of South Carolina blames Ike for the dangerously low defense budget of 1949 passed just before the Korea War caught us partly napping. Though Louey Johnson got credit for this budget, Maybank says it was Eisenhower's testimony before the senate appropriations committee which really put it across.

Americans eat more than a billion and a half crackers a year. Just mentioned as a crummy item.

Too Many Small Farms Could Cause Government Headaches

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Too many American farms are too small.

This could be one of the roots of the administration's farm troubles.

Since 1920 the trend has been toward larger farms. But a recent study by the Department of Agriculture indicates that it probably has not been fast enough.

In 1920 the average size of the American farm was 148 acres. Today it's 216 acres. Averages like this don't really tell the story, however, because farms vary greatly in most economic size depending upon what they produce.

The most revealing figure from the DOA study shows that one-half of all the country's farm manpower is employed on small, low-production farms. These farms have about one-fifth of the total land resources yet produce one-tenth of the farm products grown for sale.

The big, mechanized, scientifically-run farm is the one that makes the big money. The average of these has 565.5 acres actually producing $56,085 worth of salable farm products per year.

The average commercial farm, including the big corporate type farms but excluding the residential farms, actually has 119 acres under cultivation which produce $5,858 worth of salable crops per year.

This means that the typical very big farm gets $99 worth of crops from each acre, while the average of all commercial farms is a little less than half of that, or $49 worth from each acre.

The report furnishes this partial explanation for the great difference:

"Small, low-production commercial farms are considerably less efficient in use of resources than large and medium commercial farms. The larger farms use greater amounts of capital per farm and per worker, but they use less labor and less capital per unit of output. In general, the larger farms are more up-to-date in adoption of recent technological innovations."

The big, scientifically-run farms mostly produce beef, wheat and fruits and vegetables. The farmer who runs one is actually a business executive who rarely gets his hand on a plow. He studies market reports, cost studies of his labor and keeps close watch on new developments in farm machinery.

The farmer who is trying to eke out a living from his scant acres is actually caught in the vice of a double trend in American agriculture. On one side he's competing against the super-farmer. And on the other side he finds himself competing with the amateur who has little to lose.

Since 1920 there has been a 66 per cent increase in the number of part-time and residential farms. These lands are owned and run by persons who derive almost all of their income from some other source.

Products from these farms compete on the market with all other agricultural produce, yet it is not a matter of vital concern to the proprietors whether prices are high or low, or whether there happens to be a drought. They keep on farming regardless.

The report advises that many

AVERAGE SMALL FARMER who ekes out a living from scant acres like this is a far cry from the farmer who runs a big, scientific operation and rarely gets his hands on a plow.

of these small inefficient farmers "may do well to turn their places into part-time farms and to accept part-time work on other farms or in nearby industries." It also states, "some farmers may even find it better to leave farming and take jobs in town."

Despite the small farm owners' bleak outlook, a DOA expert does not think there will be any quick drastic change in the situation.

"Basic changes take place slowly in American agriculture," he says. "If a farmer doesn't make money one year he just takes in his belt a few notches."

Although the present trend to lower farm prices is putting a special squeeze on the small fellow, the agriculture spokesman says, it doesn't mean that the big fellows are going to get bigger. Lower prices are hurting them, too.

There's no indication that big, collective farms are the answer, either. The average American farmer is considered too independent for that to happen. At worst the very low producers will be slowly squeezed out their farms and the rather slow trend toward bigness will continue, slowly and over a long period.

We must maintain a strong military posture for the long haul. This will require the utmost in economy and management.—Adm. Robert Carney.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

FIREMEN'S HELPERS—The wind whipped raw and cold out of the northeast, kicking up whitecaps on the bay, blowing smoke from the railroad yards into another and larger cloud of smoke that issued from the flaming Northern Motor Rebuilders building.

The fire was one of the largest in Escanaba in many years, and from the standpoint of its effect upon the local economy was most disastrous. About 75 men were employed at the plant that rebuilt motors and other Ford parts for the district comprising Illinois, Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula.

Escanaba firemen found a note of cheer in their work, however, for Gladstone quickly sent its own fire truck and crew to assist in fighting the fire—and Tim and Sally's brought hot coffee and doughnuts to the scene.

This was not the first time that Tim and Sally have supplied a hot cup for the firemen, they tell me. Certainly nothing could better indicate thoughtfulness. The firemen appreciate it.

DESOLATION—The fire scene itself was one of desolation a couple hours after the blaze was discovered.

Water stood hip deep in the loading well at the east end of the building. Rebuilt motors, waiting shipment, were apparently unharmed—but farther inside the building the many expensive precision machines used in rebuilding those motors were blackened by fire.

Overhead the roof was nearly burned away and fire still smoldered along the eaves of the roof where heavy wood timbers, charred and projecting inward in grotesque patterns, dripped black water.

Outside the curious who were up at that early hour stepped around puddles and streams of water and peered into the building through doors and windows.

At the office entrance furniture and records of operations were piled at the side of the street. A sheet of paper, loosened from a desk drawer by the wind, blew into the waterfilled gutter.

THE SET-BACK—Northern Motor Rebuilders had come to this building last summer, and then on a note of expanding optimism.

Formerly located on Stephenson Avenue in what was the old Steele Wallace property, Northern Motor Rebuilders were asked to move by Harnischfeger Corporation, which leased the area from the city and needed more space for expansion.

The city set about renovating the building on First Ave. N., which it purchased several years ago from the C. & N. W. Railroad as an industrial site, and Northern Motor Rebuilders moved there.

Operations were expanded by Motor Rebuilders and additional employees were hired. Everything was going fine—until the fire.

CITY COOPERATION—Now the fine new machinery was blackened and damaged by heat and water, the interior of the building virtually destroyed.

H. J. Norton, Northern Motor Rebuilders owner, said he had made no decision whether the plant would be reopened. Even the full extent of the damage had not been determined. But Norton said he wants to continue the Motor Rebuilder business in Escanaba.

Escanaba City Council, meeting in special session, discussed the disastrous fire and the position of the city in relation to the hoped-for reopening.

The Councilmen agreed the city should cooperate insofar as it could in restoring the building—if Motor Rebuilders would resume operations.

The building could be used for city equipment storage, of course, but that would not return men to their jobs and start payrolls again.

CAUSE AND EFFECT—Firemen do not know how the industrial fire started, but everyone recognizes the ill effect of the disaster upon the local economy.

When a home is destroyed by fire, there is the Red Cross and volunteer help to assist the family in reestablishing itself. But when an industry or a business is hit by fire the calamity is community-wide.

It is hope of the people of Escanaba and the expressed desire of the City Council that Motor Rebuilders will rise from the present ruin to re-open and again contribute to local employment.

'Greek Wheel' Turns Agricultural Revolution

"Gadget" brings mechanization to small farms of Greece.

Nicknamed the "Gadget" by its inventors, agricultural experts of the American Foreign Operations Administration to Greece, this machine is helping to update primitive methods of Greek farming by several centuries. Called the "Greek Wheel" by Yugoslav officials who also plan to build the device, it can prepare soil for seed after a field has been plowed, then can be used to plant small-grain seeds and corn, cut young weeds, cultivate row-grown crops. Simple enough to be made by village blacksmiths, first pilot model in each community will be paid for by the Greek government, lent to farmers by the blacksmith. The machine will sell for 500,000 drachmas ($15), and is expected to save farmers $2,000,000 in seed; 2,500,000 man-days of labor each year.

Simple to build, low in cost, "Greek Wheel" performs four labor-and-money-saving operations.

Jackson Kiwanis Club Loans Out Bicycles

JACKSON (P)—Parents please note: A 9-year-old Jackson boy said "All the other kids have got bikes—I'm gonna get one some how." He got his bike—he stole it.

It was just one case that haunted Jackson, as similar ones have haunted other communities in Michigan. The boy was from a low income family. The food, rent and clothing bills left no room for bikes.

But at least one group is doing something about it — that's the Jackson Kiwanis.

One member, C. Fred Benson, asked himself: "What if someone had given that boy a bicycle, or at least let him use one?"

Now the Kiwanis Bicycle Club is following two parallel courses. It's combating juvenile delinquency among underprivileged children, and teaching future motorists the laws of the road on bicycles first.

Benson says, "There are hundreds of unused bicycles and tricycles stored in attics and garages. We would like to have them donated to the Bicycle Club. Then we'll loan them out to underprivileged children."

The club will repair any bikes that need it. Four repair stations will be set up in Jackson, Benson said, and club members will work with children in repairing the bikes.

Before a bike is loaned the child must apply with a parent at the repair station. Then each boy or girl must complete the police department's course in bicycle safety.

"We feel this will help make the children safe automobile drivers when they grow up," Benson said.

It is estimated that the United States uses about 28 million commercial Christmas trees a year.

Marsh Gas Causes Well To Explode

OLIVIA, Minn. (P)—The Francis Tisdell family is waiting for its water well to blow its top again.

The well has been "exploding" about once a month since January. Some of the first blasts all but wrecked the wellhouse.

Dr. George A. Thiel, chairman of the University of Minnesota geology department, says the explosion are from marsh gas that bubbles up from peat beds locked in the ground.

Baby Weighed 17 Pounds

OMAHA (P)—A Western Union operator repeated the message to the sender: "It's a boy. Seventeen pounds, seven months."

The operator couldn't hide the incredulity in his voice. "Was that 7 pounds or 17 sir?" he asked.

"Seventeen," the sender replied promptly, and added with a chuckle: "I don't know why but people asked the same question three years ago when we adopted the other baby."

Pork Best Buy In Food Stores

Roast pork leads the parade of best buys in food stores and supermarkets around the country this week. And there's plenty of red cabbage, sauerkraut and apple sauce to go with it.

Some of the big trend — setting food chains are featuring pork loins at prices ranging from 4 to 10 cents below last week's levels.

Eggs Down Again

Beef is also lower in many parts of the country, notably top sirloin, rib roast and pot roast. The trend in lamb continues higher. Prices of frying chickens are mostly unchanged; in many areas the plump fryers and broilers are a good bargain.

Egg prices are down again this week. Reductions of one or two cents a dozen are fairly common in wide areas of the nation, but a gradual rise can be expected as holiday demand picks up.

Best buys on the vegetable counter this week include many of the traditional "fixin's" for a roast pork dinner. There's cabbage of all varieties—red, Savoy, "Danish" and domestic. Also listed in the "best buy" category are round white potatoes.

Apples continue to head the list of standout buys in the fresh fruit department. Prices are about the same as last week for practically all varieties except the popular McIntosh which is a little lower in some areas.

The Agriculture Department has singled out the winter pear as its food headliner this week. If the pears are not quite ripe when you buy them, let them ripen at home at room temperature.

All the redecoration was done by Joe Decker of Perkins. This is the first time in many years that a complete redecoration has been done from floor to ceiling.

Services will be conducted at 7 a. m. Sunday, Nov. 15, by the Rev. Father Charles Daniel of Perkins and also every first and third Sunday of each month. This will be the first service since the completion of the redecoration.

English-Finnish Services

English services will be held for the first time at the Finnish Lutheran Church in Rock Sunday, Nov. 15.

Majorities On Some Senate Committees Going To Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republicans were reported today to be thinking of allowing the Democrats to have a majority on a couple of committees in the 1954 session.

The plan under consideration would allow the GOP to retain the chairmanship and thus a measure of control of the functioning of the two groups.

Party strategists at the Capitol said this might be the best solution raised for the next session by the fact that the Republicans have 47 senators to the Democrats' 48. A Republican senator, who asked that his name not be used, said one result of the committee maneuvering in January would be that Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) would get much better committee spots next year.

Morse was bumped from his two key committee places — on the armed services and labor groups — last January after he booted the GOP in the 1952 presidential campaign.

But Morse now is in a position to play a vital role in permitting the Republicans to retain control of the Senate and its committees next year. He has said he will vote with the GOP on organization matters, which would create a tie and permit Vice President Richard M. Nixon to decide the issue in the Republicans' favor. Democrats, however, have said they did not plan to try to seize Senate control.

The Republican strength fell below that of the Democrats when the late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) was replaced by a Democrat, Thomas A. Burke.

With only 47 members, it is mathematically impossible for the GOP to control 4 of the 15 Senate committees under present rules.

Wall Street

NEW YORK 65¢—Steel shares were in demand today in an otherwise mixed stock market.

Gains ran to between one and two points at the best and losses were held down to fractions. The pace of trading over all was right around Tuesday's level of 1,340,000 shares.

Interest in the steels came as the magazine Iron Age reported the industry had "hurdled" the great transition from sellers' to buyers' market without suffering a sharp decline.

Also higher were oils and rubbers. The railroads were backward. Most of the remainder of the market was mixed or steady.

Higher stocks included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel, General Motors, Pacific Western Oil, Amerasia Petroleum, Goodyear, and General Electric.

Lower were Studebaker, United Aircraft, Admiral Corp., Union Carbide, American Tobacco, and Illinois Central.

ISHPEMING — Marquette County alumni of two rival institutions—the University of Michigan and Michigan State College —will hold an unusual (and presumably friendly) social session Saturday afternoon while their two alma maters are having it out on the gridiron. They will gather at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Mather Inn in Ishpeming in time to hear the radio broadcast of the GOP in the 1952 presidential campaign.

MARQUETTE—Robert F. (Bob) Bowers, Marquette, a past master counselor of Fellowship Chapter, Order of DeMolay, and a chevalier, has been named grand junior deacon of the Michigan State Chapter of the DeMolay.

L'ANSE — Two L'Anse youths were in solitary confinement in the Marquette County jail after unsuccessfully attempting to dig their way out of jail. Sheriff Albert Jacobson said the two young men, Nelson Loonsfoot and Howard B. Miller, both 17, by use of a spoon, had begun to remove bricks from underneath the bars in their cell on the third floor before their "project" was foiled.

MARINETTE—First of a winter series of meetings of foremen and supervisory personnel in Twin City industries will be held at 6:30 p. m. on Monday, Nov. 23, in the Silver Dome in Marinette. The meetings are sponsored by the industrial divisions of the Marinette and Menominee Chambers of Commerce. They were inaugurated last year with meeting places alternating between the two cities.

MENOMINEE—Slicing of beets in the 1953 sugar processing run of the Superior Sugar Refining Company will be completed on Friday, with the liquidation completed by next Monday or Tuesday, reports Superior General Manager John Sargent. The run is expected to produce about 11 million pounds of sugar. This year's run was one of the shortest in years, due to a short beet crop because of unfavorable weather in the late summer and early fall.

HURLEY—An ordinance making it unlawful for anyone to keep, store, or abandon old ice boxes or refrigerators where they will be accessible to children without first removing all handles, locks and latches was passed by the Hurley City Council Tuesday night.

ST. IGNACE—Two airmen were injured in a collision which snapped off three high-tension electric poles in St. Ignace about 12:50 a. m. Tuesday. The men, both from Kinross Air Force Base, were Douglas B. Grover, who suffered body bruises and a cut on his left ear, and William Frederick Watson, who suffered chest cuts and body bruises. Both were taken to the air base for treatment.

SAULT STE. MARIE—A new method of snow and ice control will be tried this season in Sault Ste. Marie. A chemical spreader has been purchased, City Manager Ralph E. Speer said, and it can spread salt up to 30 feet wide. This will be used to keep the ice down, and to keep the snow from packing into the gutters and "saucer-ing."

EARLY CHRISTIAN ART REDISCOVERED—A young tenant of an old Milan, Italy, building looks at an old fresco which was recently discovered in the building's unused attic. Plaster crumbling off the walls led to the discovery of the well-preserved piece of art, showing Christ on the cross. Experts feel that the figure of Christ may be only part of a large fresco underneath the entire wall of the attic.

Bay City Relatives May Claim $80,000 Yukon Gold Hoard

BAY CITY (AP)—A Michigan sister-in-law and an adopted niece of a onetime prospector in the Canadian Yukon might — and might not — share in the $80,000 fortune he left.

A family lawyer, was trying today to get at the facts. Canadian inheritance laws are involved.

The death in a Yukon wilderness cabin of Albert Kellerman, former Bay City, left the puzzle. A veteran of the Alaskan gold rush, Kellerman died intestate Dec. 30, 1952.

Attorney John T. Mitchell said there was a "possible chance" that the sister-in-law and adopted niece might qualify as heirs.

Senate Opens Spy Hearing To Public

White may have been kept under surveillance after the FBI reports on him.

Truman promoted White from assistant secretary of the Treasury to U. S. executive director of the International Monetary Fund early in 1946.

Gen. Vaughan Appears

Brownell charged in a speech in Chicago last week that Truman took this action in the face of two FBI reports that exposed White as a Soviet spy.

Brownell called it an "established fact" that White was a spy when Truman sent his nomination to the Senate.

The senators planned a public hearing, beginning at 2:30 p. m. with Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan as the witness. Brownell said FBI reports intended for Truman were delivered to Vaughan, then the President's military aide.

There was some speculation that Velde's go-round with Truman may mean the Un-American Activities Committee will stay out of the future investigation of the whole affair.

Lending support to this speculation was a feeling among some Republicans that the subpoena for Truman had hurt the GOP politically.

Rep. Merrill R. Ind said it was "a political blunder" which had the effect of switching the spotlight from the White case to the subpoena-Truman issue.

President Eisenhower asserted Wednesday that he, personally, would not have subpoenaed Truman, and declared it was inconceivable to him that Truman would do anything to damage the United States.

Ex-POW Exposes Red Hoax On Life In Prison Camps

"United Nations P.O.W.'s in Korea," an elaborate, 92-page slick-paper, lavishly illustrated booklet purporting to reveal how well prisoners were treated while confined in Communist prison camps in Korea, has been exposed as a skillful compilation of half-truths and lies, by Lieut. Robert S. Wood, of Washington, D. C., who spent 34 months in Korean prison camps. The booklet is illustrated with 230 photographs, with one page and the back cover in color. It was published by the "Chinese People's Committee for World Peace, Peking, China, 1953." "It is a complete misrepresentation," says Wood. "The pictures (many of them taken from American publications) were lifted out of context." The booklet extols the Reds' "Lenient Policy" for treatment of prisoners. This, says Wood, applied "as long as you stayed out of trouble." Some of the most glaring misstatements appear in the chapter headed "Medical Care." Wood exposes the Communists' myth of plenitude of food—"we got pigs all right. One pig a week for the whole camp." Communist pictures of religious services draw the comment that a priest in Wood's camp at Pyoktong, on the Yalu, was not allowed to walk 100 yards to administer last rites to dying men begging for his aid.

"These men have just been captured. What lies ahead for them?" is query in Communist propaganda caption which accompanies this first picture in the book . . .

"... 50 per cent will die," says Lt. Robert S. Wood, with bitter knowledge born of three years' imprisonment.

"The scene is peaceful and pleasant," the Communist caption says of this POW camp on the shores of the Yalu River. That, said Lieutenant Wood, is because it doesn't show the mass grave "behind what they call a 'hospital' or where all the prisoners are buried up on the hill." Communist caption says, "There is no barbed wire around the camp." Lieutenant Wood says, "No barbed wire! We had a double barbed-wire fence. It was two rows thick, made of heavy poles buried in the earth." Lieutenant Wood was at this camp, at Pyoktong.

Communist caption: "This man is seriously ill and has to be fed by the nurse." Lieutenant Wood: "... the Communists picked up a guy from the floor where he had lain for four months and put him on two benches. Then they threw a white comforter over him. After the picture, they yanked off the cover and put him back on the ground in the filth."

Non-Drinkers Get Cheap Insurance

CHICAGO (AP)—Three Chicago men have started an auto insurance business to serve non-drinking drivers only. They plan to give their policyholders a substantial reduction in rates. Joseph Gunderson, a real estate broker who heads the newly licensed Illinois firm, says those insured will sign this pledge on their application forms: "I do not use alcoholic beverages and I will not do so during the life of this policy." The Illinois Department of Insurance says initial rate schedules of the new firm are about 25 per cent below so-called bureau, or average rates, for liability and property damage coverage, and about 20 per cent under the average for collision. Gunderson says he hopes his firm will be able to make further reductions annually to policyholders with no accident claim experience. The new firm, the Central Security Mutual Insurance Co., has based its initial rates upon experience of an Iowa firm which has been writing non-drinkers' policies for the last six years. Five-year policyholders of the Preferred Risk Mutual Insurance Co., Des Moines, are now paying rates about 25 per cent under the national average.

Blind Man Spots Fire In Home

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 61-year-old blind man was credited by the Los Angeles Fire Department with putting out a fire which threatened to destroy his home. M. J. Kaleel smelled smoke in his bungalow, rushed outside for a garden hose and pushed it through an open window. After he located the hottest part of the room he directed a water stream toward that area until the heat subsided. When firemen arrived, Kaleel was nonchalantly rolling up the hose. Damage to the home was estimated at $600. Kaleel lost the sight of both eyes in a college football game in 1912.

Santa Claus Now Pays Income Taxes

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Santa Claus always was a kindly old fellow, but a mighty poor businessman. "Charity begins at home," his wife kept telling him. But every year Santa came home each Christmas dawn, broke but happy from the world's oldest giveaway program. He never made a cent through the centuries.

HAL BOYLE

Well, they've finally got the mellow old spendthrift organized on a sensible basis that proves philanthropy doesn't have to be a red-ink venture. Santa Claus is now on a payroll and pays income taxes to Uncle Sam. And so do all his merry little elves.

The financial transformation of Santa began in the gnomish mind of Harold Fortune.

Idea Grows

Fortune, had a friend, Julian Reiss, a wealthy Lake Placid, N. Y., auto dealer, who liked to tell Christmas stories to his daughter Patricia. In 1948 Reiss mentioned to Fortune a wistful remark by little Patricia:

"Gee, I wish sometime I could see Santa's workshop."

Bang, bang, bang: Bells rang in Fortune's promoter head. Who wouldn't want to see Santa's workshop? He and Reiss began planning.

Several months and perhaps 500 thousand dollars later, they opened on July 1, 1949, a 15-acre Christmas village at North Pole, their own community on Whiteface Mountain in the Adirondacks.

"We have ten log buildings done in fairyland style," said Fortune. "Santa's elves dressed in costume make toys, and operate a pottery shop. Two hundred animals—reindeer, peacocks, goats, ducks, and rabbits—wander through the village. There are a number of nursery rhyme characters, including Bo-Peep, who is followed by her sheep."

Toys Distributed

Children under ten are admitted free, adults pay a dollar each. The fairyland village has had 2,234,826 visitors in four years, thousands of whom toss coins in a wishing well to buy Christmas toys.

The corporation that operates Santa's workshop chips in a share of receipts for this purpose, too. By Christmas this year it will have distributed since the opening date some 67,710 toys costing $143,075.

The Esso Standard Oil Co. supplies an airplane for Santa's journey. This year his safari includes stopovers at 34 airports, where groups of orphans and other underprivileged children will be given candy and Christmas presents.

Is the whole project philanthropy or just another Christmas business? Both, said Fortune.

"We are a commercial venture," he said, "and we pay an income tax. But we do a lot of good that otherwise wouldn't get done, and I don't mind telling you I feel good on Christmas morning."

He Thought They Said 'Clothes For Cleanah'

CHILLICOTHE, Mo. (AP)—Hal Glick thought it was odd that the girl collecting clothes for the cleaner was wearing shorts. But when she knocked at the door he gave her his wife's good winter coat and two pairs of his trousers.

Mrs. Glick solved the mystery. She rescued the clothing from the church basement where girls were collecting "Clothes for Korea." Not "clothes for the cleaner."

Collect Mosquitoes For Disease Control

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Shipments of about 300 live mosquitoes have been collected in the Milk River Valley. Their destination is the U.S. Public Health Service at Hamilton, Mont. The Rocky Mountain laboratories are there.

The mosquitoes are examined to determine if they are carriers of human diseases—especially of encephalitis. That's commonly called sleeping sickness. This is a pilot project that may guide mosquito control throughout the West.

Last year the same variety of mosquito—Culex tarsalis—was identified in regions of California affected in a severe encephalitis outbreak.

Permit Sought For Gas Pipeline

DETROIT (AP)—The American Louisiana Pipe Line Co. is asking the Federal Power Commission to permit it to build a $130,000,000 natural gas pipeline from Louisiana to Michigan.

American Louisiana, a subsidiary of American Natural Gas Co., claimed it could furnish gas "adequate to supply all present and future requirements of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.," another American Natural subsidiary.

Michigan Consolidated now is served by Panhandle Eastern and Michigan Wisconsin, the latter pipeline also a subsidiary of American Natural. Panhandle Eastern has proposed that it build a new pipeline into the Midwest.

The Michigan Public Service Commission recently ordered Michigan Consolidated to connect 9,600 new home heating customers in Detroit, Grand Rapids and Muskegon—and to cut industrial customers.

If American Louisiana gets to build the new pipeline, Michigan Consolidated predicts it could add 95,000 more space heating customers before the end of 1955, an additional 73,000 in 1956, around 45,000 in 1957, and 35,000 in 1958.

Prison Guard Gets Paid For Car Damage By Escaped Convict
LANSING (AP)—A Southern Michigan Prison guard will get some recompense for the wild night ride on which an escaped convict took him Oct. 17.

The financial committee of the State Administrative Board recommended the state pay $86.88 to guard Frank K. Pfau for damages to his car which was used when convict Dorn Tawnsing kidnapped him from a prison farm and forced him to drive to Muskegon. State police shot up the car trying to stop it.

The state accident fund has agreed to pay for the treatment of "shock and related injuries" sustained by Pfau.

Board members said the state had no legal liability but believed it had a "moral" obligation to compensate Pfau.

Atrocity Inquiry Approved In UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly has agreed to air American charges that Communists in Korea committed unspeakable atrocities against U. N. prisoners.

The vote in the 60-nation body was 53-5 with 2 abstentions. The overwhelming approval represented a resounding rejection of Russian claims that the United States brought the charges only to torpedo the Korean political conference.

Chief Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky charged the United States was trying to inflame public opinion with "flagrant lies" about atrocities.

The fiery Russian, fighting to prevent U. N. consideration of a documented American report of mass murder which liquidated almost 30,000 prisoners including 6,113 Americans, told the U. N. General Assembly that the report was an attempt to "foment war hysteria and frustrate reduction of tensions."

Overweight Not Cause Of Coronary Disease, Health Expert Says

NEW YORK (AP)—The idea that being overweight makes you easier victim to a heart disease—unless you are sure you are a fat butterball—was challenged today by a famous researcher in physiology.

Dr. Ancel Keys presented the evidence giving some reassurance to those on the heavy side to the American Public Health Assn. He is director of the laboratory of physiological hygiene, School of Public Health, University of Minnesota.

He urged more research to discover the reasons why Americans suffer more heart disease and deaths than people in many other countries.

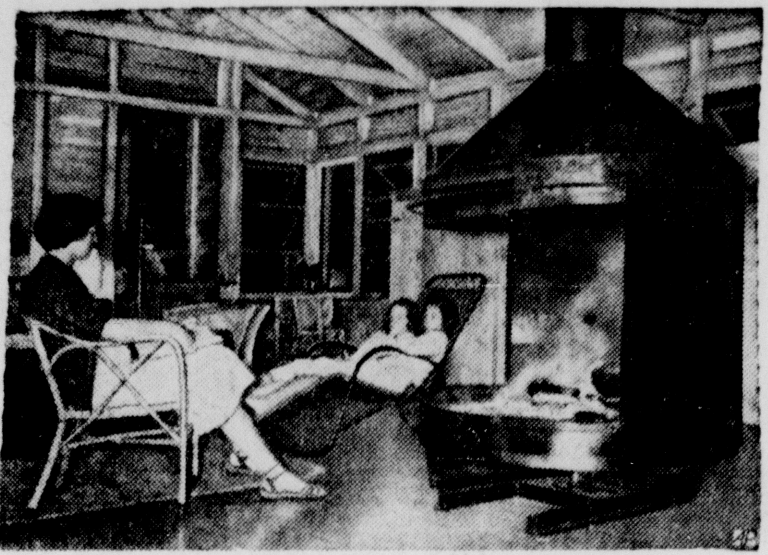

"Overweight of itself, except in extreme degree, is not a primary cause of coronary disease," he said.

Teachers Object To Nursemaids' Role

LOWELL, Mass. (AP) — "Baby carriage" legislation which would have allowed children under 4½ years to attend school has been killed by the School Committee on recommendation of Mayor Henry Boudry.

Children under that age would have been allowed to attend if their parents obtained the consent of members of the school committee.

Strong opposition came from teachers who suggested they would be "nursemaids" under the proposal.

A revolving fireplace toasts the Thrun family from several directions.

Mrs. Robert Thrun, wife of a New York lawyer, designed the fireplace for the family's summer home at Sullivan, Me. It is built from a steel tank, four feet in diameter, and can be turned to send heat toward the dining, kitchen or living areas of the big room in the modern, one-story dwelling.

The Thruns have three children, Sally, Roberta and Robert Jr.

Life Of Doomed Soldier Spared

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Army board of review has set aside the murder conviction for which Sgt. Daryl V. Best of Roseville, Mich., faced execution.

The board's finding had the almost certain effect of sparing the 23-year-old soldier's life.

Best had been convicted in a court martial of murder in the slaying of a South Korean soldier and sentenced to die.

Life sentences for two companions, also convicted of murder, were set aside under the decision.

The board's verdict climaxed a fight by Roseville residents in behalf of Best. Petitions with thousands of signatures went to Washington. His mother, Mrs. Bonnie Focht, appealed to President Eisenhower and visited Washington last July to speak for her son.

The court martial convicted Best of premeditated murder. The South Korean soldier was shot to death last Feb. 24. He was a military policeman. At the time Best and his companions were AWOL.

Fairgrounds Opened

DETROIT (AP)—State approval has been given tentatively to a Department of Parks and Recreation plan to use two State Fairgrounds buildings for winter-month recreation. The Agriculture Building would be used for basketball and badminton and the dairy cattle barn for ice skating beginning November, 1954.

It is estimated that the consumer pays about $6 a pound for the protein he eats in steak and $3 a pound for protein he eats in milk.

Lay Off Castor Oil For Tummy Aches, Says Good Doctor

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Hurray for Dr. William Rottschaefer.

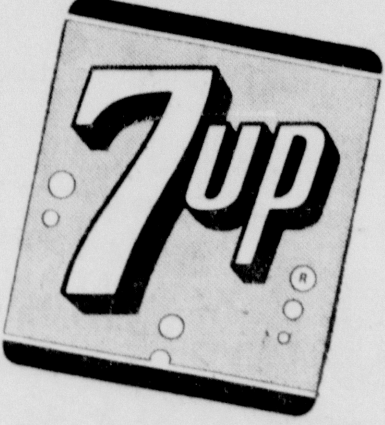

The good doctor, senior clinical instructor in surgery at the University of Michigan, speaks out against castor oil. He also suggests that parents not force a child to finish a meal if he complains of stomach pains.

The doctor pointed out that a misplaced gesture or scolding may enter the child's stomach "via his emotions."

Said Dr. Rottschaefer: "Any severe stomach pain that lasts longer than six hours usually indicates some condition of surgical significance. Don't belittle a stomach ache."

"Above all, lay off the castor oil. It merely adds an irritant to an already irritated stomach."

medical officer at the U. S. Naval Academy.

Underwater swimmers equipped with feet flippers and breathing devices are going through extensive tests. The Navy calls the swimmers "frogmen."

Shilling listed among some of their "routine accomplishments":

"They can swim under the surface of the water for two hours, at 50 feet depth for an hour. They can swim for a mile or more under water without resting. They can free swim to a depth of over 300 feet.

"They can leave a submerged submarine underway and can go, accomplish their mission, and return safely inside the submarine."

Omaha Water Has Soapy Flavor

OMAHA (AP)—Sioux City, Ia., housewives are being blamed for a bad taste in Omaha's water. The taste actually was the result of oil which poured into the Missouri River from a pipeline break upstream from Omaha.

Normally that wouldn't have affected Omaha's water supply, since oil would have floated on the river surface. Omaha pumping station intakes are on the river bottom.

However, Metropolitan Utilities District Chemist Joseph F. Erdei said detergents used by housewives at Sioux City, also upstream, mix with the oil and cause it to emulsify. The result, said Erdei, is that the oil is mixed with the water instead of floating on top.

Swiss Watchmakers Partial To Redheads

BIENNE, Switzerland (AP)—Gentlemen may prefer blondes, but Swiss watchmakers are partial to red heads—for purely scientific reasons. Each watch jewel—smaller than a pinhead—has an almost invisible hole bored in it.

The Swiss have devoted years of research to finding an abrasive that will polish the inside of this hole to near-perfect smoothness.

The solution, they found, is a strand of human hair. Not just any hair, however. Men's hair, they found, is too coarse. And a blonde's is too pliant, a brunette's too brittle.

But a red headed girl's hair, they found, is just right.

MANISTIQUE

Santa Arrives Here Dec. 12

Top O' Lake Chamber of Commerce today officially announced that Santa Claus would arrive in Manistique on the morning train, Saturday, Dec. 12.

A civic reception will be accorded the famous visitor from the North Pole and an invitation to attend the party has been extended to every child in the Manistique area.

There will be gifts for all children and each child will have an opportunity to speak to Santa in the old high school gymnasium.

The parade will form at the Soo Line station immediately upon Santa's arrival. Gifts this year will be the finest ever, the Chamber has been informed.

During the past several years this event has been outstanding and 1953 is expected to surpass all others in attendance.

To finance the big event a committee has been formed to solicit funds from all persons interested in children. Many children in the past have come from families which have only small amounts to spend for their children, the C. of C. reports.

No gift is too small and it is hoped the loss of one big industry in Manistique, causing families to move away, will be offset by bigger gifts.

Manistique labor unions have offered their full support to the big event again this year, the Chamber of Commerce reports. First contribution received for the party this year was from the Hon. John F. Wood, state representative.

Install Police Radio Here Soon

Arrangements have been made to have a Marquette radio technician install the new police radio in the Manistique police car Saturday or shortly afterwards, Police Chief Roy Anderson said today. All parts for the 60-watt radio unit have arrived, including an alternator and generating equipment.

Installation of police radios here was approved by the Manistique City Council, by a vote of 3 to 1, Sept. 28. The radio unit cost $541 and the alternator $157.15.

Details of licensing the radio unit, which will operate on the base set of the Michigan State Police here, now are being worked out. Also being considered are plans for instructing the 5-man Manistique police force in operation of the radio hook-up. FCC regulations govern operation of the short wave stations as well as other radio broadcast units.

The government is committed to aid the wartime handicapped, but the processes of governmental functions oftentimes are slow, he observed. In some instances a disabled veteran may have waited too long to seek compensation which is rightfully his, and at other times sudden illness may mean he has to quit his job, the commander pointed out.

"This is where the DAV comes in. Composed of disabled veterans, the organization is dedicated to the cause of the disabled," Jones explained.

Those disabled because of sickness or wounds are entitled to the benefits of the organization, whether or not they are members of the DAV, the commander stated.

"Free and voluntary service of this kind needs to be financed and each year the DAV raises money through a 'Forget-Me-Not' campaign," Jones reports.

Each city and community has its own campaign and the money collected is used in the same community or city to aid the disabled, he explained. In Manistique the DAV "Forget-Me-Not" campaign will be conducted Friday and Saturday, Nov. 13 and 14.

Comdr. Jones notes that "Every one should feel proud to wear a Forget-Me-Not, the blue flower of remembrance. It is a decoration, not only for the lapel—but also for the heart."

GLADSTONE

Townsend Plan Will Be Issue Before Congress

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY WASHINGTON, (CQ)—When Congress considers social security matters next session, its members will be asked to give serious consideration to a famous and controversial proposal for meeting the problems of America's aged.

The proposal is the Townsend Plan for National Insurance, quarantined over by politicians and economists for two decades. It is currently being revived by a rejuvenated lobby of elder citizens.

Today Townsend Plan, Inc., the national organization headed by Dr. Francis E. Townsend, 86-year-old author of the Plan, is launching what officials term its "greatest lobbying crusade in two decades" for Congressional action on the proposals.

Calls For 2 Per Cent Tax
The Townsend Plan still calls for a two per cent tax on all income over $250 a month. Its revenue would be divided equally among all unemployed persons over 60, widows and dependent children under 18, and the totally blind and disabled.

Proposed changes now being considered would forbid payment of pensions to wives of highly-paid men still working, eliminate the requirement that each beneficiary spend his pension within one month, and permit pensions to all widows.

Organization officials say that during the last session they were able to induce 163 members of the House of Representatives to sign a discharge petition to bring Townsend Plan legislation before the full House for consideration. This is only 55 short of the required majority, and the petition still is pending.

"The target of our present lobby campaign is early consideration of the Plan next session," says Mrs. J. A. Ford, director of the Washington legislative office.

A study being conducted by a House Ways and Means Subcommittee headed by Rep. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb.) shows the interest in social security proposals, Townsend officials say. The Curtis group plans to start hearings soon.

"Impractical," Critics Say
But critics of the Plan say the Townsend group is overly optimistic. When the Plan was conceived, it was attacked as impractical. Opponents still maintain it won't work, but most of them agree a renewal of the controversy probably lies ahead.

The Townsends' current lobby campaign is a $150,000 program designed to put full-time organizers in a dozen new states, to create lobbying units in each of the nation's 435 Congressional districts, to distribute the Townsend message via radio, TV and leaflets, and to strengthen the Washington bureau for the political fight shaping up in 1954.

Group members are being urged to participate in "Operation Buttonhole," a campaign of buttonholing Congressmen in their home districts to discover whether they support the Plan.

This operation is being directed from group headquarters in Cleveland. Members are being given instructions on how to contact their Congressmen by the Townsend National Weekly, the organization's newspaper.

When Congress reconvenes, officials plan to resume "Operation Mailbag," a large-scale letter and telegram-writing campaign which they credit with having helped to obtain signatures for the House discharge petition.

All of these campaigns are being supported by the group's year-old Voters League—a community-lobbying program under which voters are being organized in each district to support or oppose specific Congressmen next year.

Says Dr. Townsend: "If the old people took their cue from other lobbies, they'd get results, too. Republicans and Democrats would compete for the old folks' vote with words and deeds to improve their lot. Our mission is to awaken elderly people to this fact of political life."

Hit And Run Horse On The Rampage

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—"Attention all cars, attention all cars," the police radio blurted out. "Wanted for hit-and-run accident, a large white horse pulling a vegetable wagon."

The docile beast was trotting along when a street department crew triggered noisy air hammers, police discovered later.

Nellie tore off like her grandma used to when the autos first hit the road. Nellie slammed into a parked car and went on her way with her elderly driver handling the reins.

The speedy police cars weren't able to catch old-fashioned Nellie.

Fishing Plug Made Steer's Mouth Sore

EMINENCE, Mo. (AP)—A local farmer was nonplussed when he noted one of his white-faced steers was losing weight. He investigated.

Seems the steer got mixed up with some fisherman's lost fishing plug in this prime small-mouth bass area. Hooks on the plug had firmly caught in the steer's jaw and tongue. Too painful for any eating or cud-chewing.

Free: from the plug, the steer was able to end his involuntary fast.

Squirrel Becomes Tired Of People

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Earl E. Geesaman, York county game protector, thinks the squirrels in his county are getting tired of people. He said one squirrel ran wild in Spring Garden Twp. and managed to frighten a couple of humans.

"The squirrel would attack humans for no apparent reason. It bit three persons before it was finally shot by a police officer," Geesaman said.

The animal was checked for rabies, but the report was negative.

"Just a mean individual, I guess," Geesaman said.

Confer On Site For Light Plant

City commissioners conferred with George Nolden, head of the Delta Coal and Dock Co., this week relative to the purchase of a portion of what is known as the Ford property at the east end of the city for use as a site for the electric generating plant to be built here.

Purchase of a tract larger than needed for the light plant is being given consideration. The additional property would furnish possible industrial or home sites.

No action was taken and further conferences will be held with Mr. Nolden relative to the matter.

City Manager H. J. Henrikson was authorized to write the Francis Engineering Co., requesting immediate start on the sewer survey project awarded them or the commission will rescind its approval.

A permit for new living quarters, a 24-hour food dispensing and entertainment asked by J. L. Jacobsen 602 Superior Ave., was approved subject to approval by the police department.

Bloodhound Was Poor Watchdog

CRESCENT BEACH, S. C. (P)—A burglar broke into Pope Hamilton's home here and Police Officer J. W. Perrin, who doubles as mayor, organized a searching party.

He asked whether anybody in the crowd had a bloodhound. "Sure," someone replied, and produced a hound that soon slipped away from the posse. They found the dog peacefully snoozing under a myrtle bush.

Then it developed that it was Hamilton's dog. So Perrin asked where the dog was during the burglary. "Asleep under the house I reckon," said Hamilton.

Sewing From Cotton Feed Bags Provides Economical Means Of Clothing Your Family

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

CHICAGO—(NEA)—Don't ever worry about being left holding the sack. But do try to make it two or three sacks, especially if they are cotton feed bags.

You can parlay them into prize-winning home furnishings and blue-ribbon fashions.

That's what I decided after an old-time kaffee klatch with three expert sewers, winners of a national cotton feed bag sewing contest, who were feted here during the International Dairy Show.

First-place winner pictured above is Mrs. W. A. McGugin, of Fresno, Calif., who wised me up on just exactly how much you can save if you keep a hand out for feed bags. The pretty navy-and-green print dress she is wearing in photo might have cost her about 81 cents if she'd had to buy the sacks, but as it was, she salvaged them from the cattle feed shipped to their ranch. Cost for the dress? Zero.

One of the most skillfully designed print tablecloths I've ever seen won special comment for Mrs. McGugin. Using four border-printed sacks she mitered the corners so perfectly that the square cloth looks as though it had been woven that way. The tops of the sacks which were blue and white polka-dotted were hemmed into four napkins.

Mrs. R. J. Little, of Memphis, Tenn., second-place winner, modeled her charming cotton carnava gown from three red calico-printed sacks. Off-shoulder neckline, pique trim and a whopping big hand-made pique posy at the waist made it real fetching. How much? "Oh, golly," says Mrs. Little. "Let's see. Dad—he runs a chicken farm—gave me the sacks. I already had the thread. But I did spend a few cents for pique. That's all."

Mrs. Little, who has been whipping up her own feed-bag fashions since her dolls were her models, also told us about the cottage curtains she makes from all-white bags. She dyes them in a strong solution of tea to get a woody beige background, then applies blue borders on them. Prize-winning place mats that caught my eye are striped red and white with red napkin pockets applied in a food design in one corner. A matching napkin is tucked in the pocket.

These are the handiwork of Mrs. Wayne Thompson, Cropsey, Ill., the third-place winner. Took about three sacks of the 100-pound-bag size (approximately 36 inches by 43 inches) to make four mats, napkins and a matching apron.

Mrs. Thompson, however, made the mats reversible by using double thicknesses of the material. Somehow she matched up exactly the stripes fore and aft. These mats, by the way, like other entries of Mrs. Thompson's, are headed for Christmas gift boxes.

"I use our chicken-feed sacks for lots of things, but to make Christmas gifts that are good looking and cost practically nothing, I don't think they can be beat," she told us.

I asked the gals if they didn't have a time getting enough sacks in the same pattern to complete a project. They agreed it was one problem. But all said they had nice feed-store dealers who would act as swapping agents.

Some feed stores sell the empty sacks for about 26 cents each. Trading around with other farm wives is another way to line up matching patterns.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backaches—feel miserable. Nahma Champions Have Five Lettermen Back

NAHMA — The defending state Class E championship Nahma Arrows, with an eight-man varsity squad, are working out under Coach Harold Anderson in preparation for an 18-game schedule which opens with a home stand against Cooks on Nov. 17.

Back from last year's title-winning team are five lettermen, including three regulars. Donald Groleau and Harold Hebert are seniors and Bernard Newhouse is a sophomore. Senior Ronald Groleau and junior Francis Pelletier also earned letters last season.

Duane Popour and Aaron Sanford, juniors, and Elmer Seymour, sophomore, make up the remainder of the varsity squad.

Nahma lost Wendell Roddy and James Popour from the team which last season posted 16 victories against six defeats. Eddie Bernier, promising freshman last season, has moved to Manistique.

Peterson Named On Great Lakes Squad

Gladstone's Duane Peterson, left end on offense and captain of the team, was named to a berth on the all-senior Great Lakes Conference football team.

The team is selected annually by conference coaches who are permitted to vote only for players from other schools. Peterson led all conference ends in the voting with five of the seven coaches naming him to their all-opponent team.

Munising, Newberry and Soo dominated the selections with three players each. Negaunee landed two and Gladstone and Marquette one each. Fullback Joe Corbiel and halfback Bob Burton of Gladstone received honorable mention.

The three Munising players making the team were linemen, Dick Blank, guard; Ronald Beauchaine, end; and Arthur Dale, tackle, landed berths.

From Newberry were Don Ferris, back; Matt Villemure, guard, and Bruce Stephens, center. Soo landed Gary Tucker and Duane McGill, backs, and Ray Bosley, tackle. Representing Negaunee were Gale Harry and Lee Johnson, backs. Bob Nystrom, Marquette back, rounded out the selections.

Manistique and Ishpeming failed to place a player on the team. Only seniors are eligible for selection.

Pressure On Bratton As Never Before In Championship Match

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—The pressure will be on Johnny Bratton to win as never before in his welterweight title scrap with champion Kid Gavilan at Chicago Stadium Friday night.

He risks just about everything in his long awaited shot at the 147-pound crown. He owned the National Boxing Association version of it two years ago, and the Cuban Kid defeated him at New York to become undisputed champion.

This will be Gavilan's seventh defense since then.

Little To Lose

Gavilan has little to lose no matter what happens. If he wins he can yield his title and take a crack at the middleweight crown held by Bobo Olson, or he can carry on as a welterweight.

If he loses, he can have a rematch with Bratton or forget it and go after Olson in a weight class more to his liking.

Bratton, a one-time flashy spender who is said to have gone through $100,000 before he reached 20 can get out of hock and set-up in business with this fight.

He stands to receive about $36,000—20 per cent of the expected net gate of $130,000 and $10,000 from television receipts. The champion's is 40 per cent. The crowd may surpass the 17,450 for Gavilan's easy defense against Chuck Davey in the stadium last Feb. 11.

Could Get Square

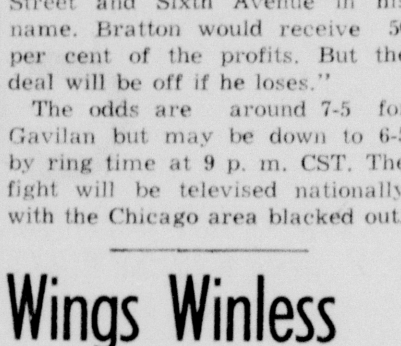

"Johnny can get square financially all the way around, including back income taxes, if he beats Gavilan," said Bratton's manager, Hymie Wallman.

"If he wins a group of businessmen in New York are ready to open a $100,000 restaurant at 52nd Street and Sixth Avenue in his name. Bratton would receive 50 per cent of the profits. But the deal will be off if he loses."

The odds are around 7-5 for Gavilan but may be down to 6-5 by ring time at 9 p. m. CST. The fight will be televised nationally with the Chicago area blacked out.

Wings Winless Away From Home

BOSTON (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings still haven't won a National Hockey League game away from home this season.

And when they managed to tie the Boston Bruins, 2-2, Wednesday night it marked their third straight 2-all tie in as many games, at home and away.

On the road the Wings have lost two and tied four this season. Gordie Howe smashed in rookie Earl Riebel's rebound with only 25 seconds remaining last night to get the NHL champions a tie with the Bruins.

For more than 45 minutes goalie Sugar Jim Henry of Boston blanked the Red Wings. Riebel got Detroit's first goal in the third period on a setup by Howe in a scrimmage in front of the Boston net.

Center Fleming Mackell broke a nine-game scoreless streak when he whacked in Boston's first goal in the second period. Four minutes later Leo La Bine put the Bruins out front 2-0.

Troy Hangs KO On Sandy In 7

WASHINGTON (AP)—Al Weill, who manages heavyweight king Rocky Marciano, said today he's convinced he has another champion on the way, hard-hitting middleweight Willie Troy.

The Washington youngster looked every bit a champion Wednesday night in knocking out highly regarded Randy Sandy of New York at 50 seconds of the 7th round of a scheduled 10-round televised bout.

Weill said Jim Norris, President of the International Boxing Club, has pledged to match the 22-year-old Troy with middleweight champion Bobo Olson for a title fight in May.

Troy, in winning the 23rd of his 24 fights, outboxed and outfought Sandy, who was staggered in the fifth by a left hook and in the sixth by a smashing right.

In the seventh, a left uppercut caught Sandy squarely on the chin. He reeled against the ropes, went down on his back and didn't get up until he had been counted out. It was his second defeat in 16 fights—both to Willie Troy.

Watkins, Bates Are Nation's Top Scorers

NEW YORK (AP)—NCAA Service Bureau statistics showed today that Bobby Watkins of Ohio State, Mickey Bates of Illinois and Joe Ulin of San Jose State, each with 11 touchdowns for 66 points, are the nation's top point-makers.

Since Ulin has been ineligible for four weeks now, the real leaders are Watkins and Bates.

Four other players have 10 touchdowns for 60 points—V. M. L.'s Johnny Mapp, Denver's Fred Mahaffey, Oklahoma's Larry Grigg and California's Al Talley. Wyoming's Joe Mastrogianni, the season-long total offense leader, is right up there with 59 points while Jack Parker of Mississippi

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

With the 1953 football season rapidly becoming a memory, the sports spotlight in the Upper Peninsula is swinging toward basketball. . . . Cage teams in this area are shaping for openers which in some cases are less than a week away. . . . Meanwhile, other basketball teams in the Upper Peninsula are forming. . . . It might be interesting to look at some of the teams which will be playing in this area later in the season.

Ishpeming, an annual power in Class B and Great Lakes Conference circles, faces a big rebuilding problem. . . . Coach C. C. Watson has only two players returning from his first seven of last year. . . . Back will be Loren Bess and Dave Garceau. . . . Gone are such familiar names as Bob Sharland, Don Kangas, John Philippi, Tom Thornton and Carl Nelson.

Up in the Menominee Range, Stambaugh will be loaded with veterans. . . . Coach Eddie Kukuk's Hilltoppers, who won only four of 15 starts last season, will be back 11-strong. . . . Ten of the 11 returning lettermen are seniors. . . . Iron River, on the other hand, has only one veteran back.

Iron Mountain, one of Escanaba's annual foes, is also starting practically from scratch. . . . Coach Joe Poisson has only one of his starters back this season. . . . He's Dave Lundell, lanky forward. . . . The Mountaineers will win Nov. 11 and lost seven.

One of St. Joe's toughest assignments often comes from Coach Allan Ronberg's Norway Vikings. . . . This year should be no exception. . . . Norway has plenty of height and three regulars back in the fold. . . . They are Rodney Carlson, Donald Casanova and Walter Servia. . . . Carlson will be lost to the team as a mid-year graduate.

Dykes Is Back In Baseball As Manager Of New Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—Genial Jimmy Dykes, who lost his job as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics a week ago, was back in business today at a new stand, working for his old boss.

He became the third manager on the rising payroll of the Baltimore Orioles after firing Marty Marion was fired last Wednesday with a year still to go on the $30,000-a-year contract he had with the St. Louis Browns.

Marion joined former Browns Manager Rogers Hornsby on the inactive pay list.

Big Payroll

Altogether, the Orioles will pay nearly $100,000 for the three managers and get work out of only one of them. Both of the surplus contracts expire after next season, as well as that of Dykes, which was bought from Philadelphia. Hornsby is believed to draw around $40,000 and Dykes $30,000.

Dykes, 57, was picked by General Manager Art Ehlert, his recent boss at Philadelphia.

Ehlert said he was firing Marion because of his "defeatist attitude."

Marion said at St. Louis: "I don't feel too bad about it. To go to Baltimore with two strikes against you, like I had, would have been a pretty tough operation."

Writer Picks Badgers To Stop Illini String

By HAROLD CLAASEN
NEW YORK (AP)—The country's college football teams followed the script almost perfectly last week-end. There were six setbacks but also 42 correct selections. That's an average of .875.

It raised the season's figure to a mean .801 with 273 picks right and 68 wrong.

Here are this week's selections:

Notre Dame over North Carolina: Notre Dame will win easier than a week ago against Penn.

Maryland over Mississippi: Mississippi was one of the two teams to beat Maryland last year. Coach Jim Tatum isn't going to let it happen again.

Alabama over Georgia Tech: Leon Hardeman, Tech's No. 1 halfback, is bobbled by a hip bruise.

Wisconsin over Illinois: The center of the Badger line and those big ends will combine to apply the brakes to J. C. Caroline, Illinois' modern Grange. But if Wisconsin relaxes for even a second it will be curtains.

Michigan State over Michigan: This is a civil war. Bolden, Donohoney and company gives State the edge.

West Virginia over South Carolina: West Virginia adds another notch to the country's longest winning streak.

Jimmy Carter Retains Title

MONTREAL (AP)—Lightweight champion Jimmy Carter, winner of three straight title fights by knockouts, today sought a crack at the winner of Friday's Kid Gavilan-Johnny Bratton welterweight championship bout.

After knocking out rangy Armand Savoie of Montreal Wednesday night in 59 seconds of the fifth round with "the best single punch (a right) I ever threw," Carter immediately put in a pitch for a shot at the welter crown.

"There ain't nobody left in the lightweights now for Jimmy," said Manager Willie Ketchum, "so he might as well fight for the welterweight title."

"Anything Willie says goes," said Carter.

Carter, a 3 to 1 favorite, was trailing on the score cards of the three voting judges until he loosed his blockbuster.

Armand dropped flat on his back. He desperately scrambled to his hands and knees as Referee Tom Sullivan counted 9 and 10.

Carter weighed 133½ and Savoie 134.

Top Ground Gainer To Meet Leading Passer

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's leading ground gainer will meet the Big Ten's top-ranked passer when Illinois and Wisconsin meet Saturday in a pivotal conference game.

Illinois' J. C. Caroline has piled up 1,075 rushing yards in seven games and has rolled up 738 in four conference contests. He needs only 37 more to break the Big Ten season record of 774 set in 1951 by Wisconsin's Alan Ameche.

The Badgers' sophomore quarterback, Jim Miller, has taken over first place in passing, according to Big Ten statistics released today. He has accounted for 498 yards, completing 28 tosses for four touchdowns, for a completion average of .519.

Another Wisconsin "find," Bob Gingrass, has become the Big Ten's leading punter with a 49.4 average.

Illinois is rated the conference's No. 1 team on offense and also shares the top defensive spot with Michigan State. The Illini's attack is averaging 387 yards per game, 324.3 of these by rushing. The conference record average is 320.

Michigan State has allowed opponents 194.4 yards per game to

McDonald May Be Big Factor

By JOHN F. MAYHEW
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Young McDonald has an arm. Ee-eye, ee-eye, oh.

That's what they're singing in University of Michigan's football camp as the Wolverines get ready for a nationally televised game Saturday at East Lansing with high powered Michigan State.

Duncan McDonald, a lad with the fine passing arm, could pull the unexpected against the heavily favored Spartans who have beaten Michigan for the past three years.

The sandy-haired junior has accounted for 26 of Michigan's 37 points in four Big Ten games this year. He has played only 51 minutes and 40 seconds.

Because of defensive superiority, Lou Baldacci has carried most of the quarterbacking load. McDonald has been sent in for spot assignment only. But Baldacci was out of the lineup in practice Wednesday because of a bad cold. The tough regular quarterback has been badly nicked in the face in the last two games and has twice required stitches about the nose and mouth.

St. Joseph Makes Bid To Join Great Lakes Athletic Conference

St. Joseph High School, a basketball and football independent, this week made a bid to join the Great Lakes Conference which is made up of eight teams from Sault Ste. Marie, Marquette, Newberry, Ishpeming, Munising, Gladstone, Negaunee and Manistique.

Application for membership was made by Tom St. Germain, St. Joe football, basketball and baseball coach, at the annual fall meeting held at Munising. Voting action was delayed on the application until the spring meeting.

In order to be admitted into the conference, a school must obtain a majority vote of the eight original members. Each member school has two votes, one by the athletic director or coach and one by the principal or superintendent.

Although no official action was taken, several schools indicated disapproval of admitting the new member to the conference.

St. Joe, which will be absorbed next year in Escanaba's new Holy Name Catholic Central High School, is one of the few Upper Peninsula athletic independents.

The Trojan athletic teams have reached a high peak under the guidance of St. Germain. The Marquette Northern graduate has piloted St. Joe basketball teams to 80 victories in 100 starts since taking over the coaching job in 1949. His Trojan basketball team last year won the Upper Peninsula Class C championship and reached the state semifinals before losing to Muskegon St. Mary. The Trojans have reached the U. P. finals for the past three seasons.

In football the Trojans have an equally impressive record. Over the past three seasons they have won 18 while losing six, with identical 6-2 records each season.

Merchants Stave Off Rally To Win

MANISTIQUE—The Manistique Merchants independent basketball team staved off a determined second half rally by Garden Bay to come out with an 80-73 verdict last night.

Manistique led the Garden team 20-7 at the first quarter mark. At halftime the Merchants had a 42-25 lead. In the third period Garden outscored Manistique 21-15 but the Merchants still led 57-46 going into the final quarter. The margin was too great for Garden to overcome in the closing period.

Garden guard Wally Moran led both teams in scoring with 31 points. Paul Hinkson was high scorer for the Merchants with 25.

The famed Harlem Globetrotters will be in Manistique for a game with the Merchants on Tuesday, Nov. 24.

Former Flint Northern Stars Will Show Stuff

By ROBERT E. VOGES
EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan-Michigan State game here Saturday should help decide who got the best deal when the football talent from Flint Northern High School was split up three years ago.

Michigan State carried off halfback LeRoy Bolden and end Ellis Duckett. Michigan captured Duncan McDonald, the passing quarterback of the championship high school team of 1950.

Twelve members of the Escanaba Hawks hockey team will hurt their first workout of the season tonight on the artificial ice at Marquette's Palestra Stadium.

The preliminary skating session will be held from 8 to 9.

Players making the trip will be Joe Ricci, Doug Peterson, Bill Suriano, Fred Hansen, Ted and Mark Olson, Buddy Provo, Bill Buckland, Bob Bizeau, Dick Johnson, Leon Mileski and Claude LeClerc. Jim Ogle of Marquette may also take part.

Coach Mark Olson invited any interested hockey prospects to contact him or manager Babs Petaja.

Hawks Will Work Out At Palestra Tonight

Only the thing that figures to hurt Michigan State's scoring punch is the loss of Billy Wells, who will be missing from the MSC "pony" backfield because of pneumonia.

Bert Zagers, a corner from Cadillac, will be running in place of Wells.

His teammates feel badly about the loss of Wells. They're already talking of "winning this one for Billy"—so Michigan State might even gain a psychological advantage from the circumstances.

Shanafelt Is Answer To Football Critics

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jack Shanafelt is the answer to those who say the current crop of college football players hasn't the stamina for the one platform game.

Shanafelt, the fine Penn tackle named Wednesday The Associated Press lineman of the week, has played 386 of a possible 420 minutes in Penn's first seven games.

State Dedicates Lansing Offices

LANSING (P)—Noting the thousands upon thousands of square feet of glass in Michigan's new modernistic, $5,300,000 state office building, Gov. Williams said in dedicating the eight-story structure Tuesday:

"We public servants who work in this magnificent building must remember that these wide windows are ever open upon us. The people will always be looking through them to see if we are doing our job and to see if they can help us."

Williams accepted the keys to the building from former Lieut. Gov. Vernon J. Brown of Mason, president of the non-profit corporation which financed the structure.

Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing), chairman of the Legislative Building Committee, said that in times of "overemphasis on federal government, this building will serve as a reminder of the importance of state government."

Invention Is Aid To Post Office Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Cy Perkins, a Columbus Post Office mechanic has invented an electric dispatching board. It could replace the chalk boards which tell mail handlers to prepare letter bundles for certain points.

Columbus now uses the Perkins board. Under the old system the names had to be written by hand. Now a bell rings and the names are flashed on the board in lights. Blueprints have been sent to Washington for possible use in other cities.

Perfect Sunday School Attendance

GREENSBORO, N. C. (P)—A Sunday School teacher once told a troop of Boy Scouts he would see that they received some new equipment if they came to Sunday School and stayed for church every Sunday for the rest of the year.

One of the Scouts was Wynne Ross. He kept on going to Sunday School after the year was over and recently was honored by his class when he completed 26 years of perfect attendance.

Not All Peaceful In The Countryside

BARKHAMSTED, Conn. (P)—Carl Schoonmaker and his family moved from the city to a home on Goose Neck Road here a year ago because they wanted peace and quiet. Here are some of the things that happened since then: a ringneck snake built a nest in the back yard, Schoonmaker almost tripped over a growling fox while running to chase rabbits out of his garden, the three Schoonmaker boys made a pet of a pheasant but have trouble feeding it because chickadees dive-bomb them whenever they appear with bread crumbs, the family collie is almost a psychopathic case because a racoon steals its supper nearly every night, and only recently Schoonmaker was putting his shotgun away (after missing a shot at a lynx) when he found a bat asleep behind the kitchen stove.

Pagodas in China have an uneven number of stories because odd numbers are considered good luck by the Chinese.

Mastodon Bones Found At Lapeer

FLINT (P)—Bones of a "very large male mastodon," which inhabited this part of the earth thousands of years ago, have been dug up from a farm near Lapeer.

Experts said today the bones constitute probably a highly important geological discovery.

The bones, described as in an unusually good state of preservation, were found on the farm of Frank Russell, five miles south-east of Lapeer.

One of the bones is a tusk more than 7 feet long and 6 inches in diameter. It is so heavy it takes a strong man to carry it only a short distance.

Russell found the tusk while digging an outlet for a pond.

Afterwards an excavation was undertaken by the Genesee County Historical and Museum Society, and the additional bones were unearthed.

The bones include a pair of small tusks and a complete shoulder blade with 20 perfect ribs and 20 vertebrae.

Auto Horn Supplants Telephone Bell

CAPE FAIR, Mo. (P)—You can get away from telephones, all right, down here in this hilly section of southwestern Missouri. There are practically no phones in the area.

But Lyle Chamberlin needed one in his resort business. So he rigged up a mobile radio phone in an old automobile in the backyard.

Now he can be half a mile down the James River and still hear the phone. It doesn't ring. It honks with a loud blast.

Tune Is The Same—Sentiment Different

COLUMBIA, Mo. (P)—The Universities of Missouri and Kansas are deadly rivals on the gridiron and the basketball court. But they use the same tune for their Alma Mater songs.

The words are different, of course, but the tune is the same "Annie Lisle" which has become famous as the school song of Cornell, Alabama, Indiana, Lehigh and other universities.

No one seems to know how old the tune is. It was known as "Annie Lisle" when the Cornell son, "Far Above Cayuga's Waters," was written in 1872.

Candid Answer Lands Man In Jail

SANTA ANA, Calif. (P)—Vern Stock, public safety officer at nearby Buena Park, spotted a young man changing the battery in a truck parked away from the curb.

"Did you buy this truck?" asked Stock.

"Nope, I stole it," the man said. Stock repeated the question, and the answer was repeated.

The man was booked at the jail on suspicion of grand theft—auto.
